Ten Cents

Anxious Reader:

We don't know the degree of fairness involved in the proposed county regulation that local firms would be required to employ minority group members in proportion to minority population.

In most cases it would result in the separation of one or more majority employees to make way for each minority members.

We polled several professional people regarding this matter. In a private discussion with a noted, respected area judge, he offered no specific answer to the question. "But," he mused, "do you suppose it would be fair to restrict welfare aid in the same ratio?"

Gas Shortage: True or False?

If you were a loyal Russian or a Red Chinese, would you want to strengthen social and trade ties with the United States of America?

Alright, Forget Watergate. Let's consider it in the light of other equally normal governmental activities.

Like the gas situation, for example. Why would any foreign government want to tie its economy to a group of nitwits who are elected to protect the public's interest as they conduct the public's business. After observing how American interest is being protected and its business is being conducted, it must seem the daylight of foreign investors.

A Soviet businessman sipping vodka with his friendly neighborhood banker would certainly suggest with logic, "If one of their own can't trust 'em, can we?"

We don't know what conclusion Ivan came to but let's take a look at us.

On the theory that the bowels of the earth would some day quit giving up fossil fuels and there would be no more, protectors in Washington devised the "depletion allowance". But instead of the people getting it for giving up their gas and oil, Washington gave it to the oil producers. Naturally the oil industry reacted with dismay when Congress, in one of its more rational moments, decided to cut off the allowance credits. That may have been the beginning of the "fuel shortage". There are those who believe the shortage will end if the depletion allowance is returned to the producers.

Then it rained in the mid-west during the winter. Heck, it rains every winter in the mid-west. But oil producers warned that it would take a lot of refinery capacity to produce heat needed to dry out the winter hay and grain crops. With it came the threat that if animal feed was not dried, the cost of meat would skyrocket due to the shortage. Refineries converted from gasoline to heat fuel but the meat prices skyrocketed anyhow. "Inflation and demand" said Washington and allowed meat prices to reach record levels.

Then someone suggested flooding the market with oil from Alaska via pipeline. That would overcome any threat of shortage and bring the consumer's cost back down. But a howl went up from the ecologists. Maybe they were goosed into vociferation by the oil people. Maybe not. Anyhow, they were already as active in the clean air campaign as a tom cat in springtime. They assured all that the ecology of the northern hemisphere would go to pot if the pipeline were put in. That matter is still pending. They also urged that spark-advance systems be ordered for autos to reduce fuel pollutants in the air. Everyone cooperated. Even the oil firms. It was commonly acknowledged that the spark advance system would increase gas consumption and would pour pollutants into the air in relation to the amount of extra fuel consumed. Last week state law deferred the installation of the new devices until fall.

But they had a good substitute. Let's cut the national speed limit by 10 miles an hour. That'll not only discourage travel but it will reduce the gas consumption rate. No ruling was invoked but some government agencies suggested lower speed and a reduction of unnecessary travel among users of their thousands of vehicles.

But the threat of the fuel shortage persists.

Another way to overcome the shortage, government decided, was to lay a heavier tax on gasoline. Everyone could see that it wouldn't produce more gas but it could make auto users more uncomfortable.

That's the kind of help every auto-driving stiff needs from the Washington nitwits. The rich guy can afford to leave some of his cars in his garage. The working guy needs his to get to work. He's got to work even harder nowadays to pay for the increased cost in meat—the increase that may have been helped along by Washington.

As this is being written, there's a conference on the gasoline demand and supply problem called for this week in Los Angeles. They'll worry about such things as the hostility fallout that would result from the nation's workers on vacation trips with no fuel to get to their destination and home again. The committee may invoke rationing. Or it may not.

Best bet is that a mild sort of gasoline rationing will be ordered to put down grousing about the shortage. Then, after the black operation cuts another notch in the government cue stick of ineptitude and the public becomes properly outraged, only then will the depletion allowance be given again and 50c-a-gallon gasoline will flow plentifully into your tank.

Big Brothers Need Temporary 'Fathers'

Five "fatherless" boys in the Spring Valley area are waiting to be assigned by Big Brothers of San Diego.

They are part of 87 in the county hoping for men to become Big Brothers so that summer vacationtime can become more meaningful. Men are needed to join the ranks of Big Brothers.

A Big Brother need not be a saint nor a Santa Claus. Men currently serving in the local program represent the entire spectrum of manhood from college students to grandfathers and from laborers to doctors and lawyers.

The one thing they have in common is the willingness to spend a few hours a week helping a boy trying to grow up without a father in the home.

The Big Brothers movement started in 1904 and has been commended by many judges and law enforcement officials as an effective anti-delinquency effort.

Big Brothers of San Diego was founded in 1961 and currently has 280 active matches. Prospective Big Brother volunteers should contact the program office, 861 Sixth Avenue—telephone 234-9158.

LG School Bus Service Cut

$20,000 Savings Seen For District's Budget

At a meeting of the Lemon Grove School Board Tuesday night, it was decided to reduce bus services to students within the district.

The present policy provides pick-up for those students who live outside the following limits: kindergarten, half a mile; grades 1-2, 3/4 mile; grades 3-6, 1 mile; and grades 7-8, 1 1/4 miles. The changes are: kindergarten and grades 1-2, 3/4 mile; grades 3-6 to 1 1/4 miles and grades 7-8 to 2 miles.

The reasons given for the change were mainly economic. It will allow for the cutback of one driver and also reduce the number of stops made by each bus. According to Robert Sutton, District Superintendent, the revisions should save a minimum of $20,000.

The new bus schedules and list of bus stops may be picked up from the school principal before school starts in the fall. Existing service to special and handicapped children will remain the same.

The 1973-74 outdoor education contract was also approved. It provides for a week long camp for sixth graders in the district at one of the county camps. The cost per pupil has increased $2 over last year to $31.50.

A preliminary budget for the 1973-74 school year was presented and accepted by the board. The budget is for $3,885,247, which is a cut of $113,600 over the 72-73 budget.

The Board also voted to accept the 1972-73 pay schedules for all employees on an interim basis, with the provision that retroactive pay to July 1, 1973 will be paid to those employees whose pay schedule is improved, if money is available.

Roy Wallin, chairman of the classified salary committee, presented a proposal asking for a 5% cost-of-living increase, other salary adjustments, and three additional paid holidays for those classified employees with over five years of service.

The Board accepted the proposal for consideration with alternate feed to a large portion of the Calavo pressure system and will help maintain pressure at the west end of Grandview dr. and the Alta Mira hilltop, in Casa de Oro Terrace dr. between Merritt and Bancroft, in Bancroft dr. north of Terrace, and in an assessment road west of Bancroft and south of Terrace.

Twelve inch mains will replace smaller pipes in Calavo between Carmen dr. and Queen ave. This line, which will also provide improved domestic and fire service to the area, is the first phase of a program to provide an alternate feed to a large portion of the Calavo pressure system and will help maintain pressure at the west end of Grandview dr. and the Alta Mira hilltop, in Casa de Oro Terrace dr. between Merritt and Bancroft, in Bancroft dr. north of Terrace, and in an assessment road west of Bancroft and south of Terrace.

Two other projects, in La Mesa and El Cajon, are scheduled.

Suspect Held In Homicide Case

A Monte Vista High School girl was stabbed to death while she was apparently en route to school Tuesday morning at about 6:30 a.m.

Found dead at the scene, the corner of Sweetwater Springs blvd. and Austin rd., about a block south of the school, was Carol Valkonen, 15, of 10767 Jamacha blvd.

She suffered multiple slash and stab wounds on her face, hands, chest, and throat.

A suspect, Jerry Robert Schnick, 24, of 314 Meadowbrook, San Diego, was arrested and charged with homicide after he was apprehended by two witnesses.

According to reports by two witnesses, Tony M. Hernandez, 50, and his son, Anthony B. Hernandez, 22, they saw the suspect run from what appeared to be a body at the side of the road.

The younger Hernandez chased the suspect, and after seeing him throw what appeared to be a knife into the field, caught him and returned to the Hernandez vehicle to await law enforcement officers, he reported.

A possible weapon was retrieved at the scene by officers. The crime was originally reported to the Highway Patrol as a traffic accident, but when CHP officers arrived at the scene the Sheriff's Department was notified.

The meeting will be held instead on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the usual meeting place: Golden Avenue school.

The Broadway corridor will be the subject of the Tuesday discussion.

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By James Hardison

"Hace" is pronounced "AH-seh" leaving the leading "h" silent. "Hace" is used occasionally as the Spanish equivalent of the English word "ago." This is seen in the phrases "hace una hora" (an hour ago), "hace un mes" (a month ago), and "hace mucho tiempo" (a long time ago).

"Hace" may also be translated "make" or "do." Examples of this are presented in the expressions "Usted hace sus vestidos." (You make your dresses.) and "El hace lo que quiere." (He does not do what he wants to.).

"Hace" is a variation of the infinitive "hacer" (ah-SEHR) which means "to make" or "to do." You may see this in the phrases "Vamos a hacer algo esta una guitarra." (It is difficult to make a guitar.).

"Hago" is the first person form of "hacer." "Hago" means "I make" or "I do." Thus we may say "Hago las camas todos los dias." (I make the beds every day.). "Hago todo lo que puedo." (I do everything that I can.). and "No hago nada los sabados." (I don't do anything on Saturdays.).

"Hacen" is a plural form which may express "they do" or "they make." This permits us to say "Ellos hacen mucho trabajo." (They do a lot of work.). "Ellos hacen muebles." (They make furniture.). and "No hacen nada." (They don't do anything.).

"Hacemos" is the verb form that means "we make" or

Massage Parlor Money Kills Bill, Writer Says

Dear Editor:

It's clear to me why the Massage Parlor Bill was killed in the Assembly. (Editorial May 1). It's money!

Our money-mad legislations will put up with most anything when the end result is money. The fees, permits, etc. for these places to keep in business brings in quite a handsome sum to the State, City and County.

It seems that decency, morality etc. are thrown out the window when money is the common denominator for most legislations.

Candidate

I have paid the filing fee and officially declared write-in candidacy for 80th District Member of Assembly in the June 26 run-off election to fill the vacancy in our State Legislature. Consequently, voters who write Roger F. Winchester in the write-in space provided on their ballots, will be casting votes that will be counted toward my election.

I am sincerely appalled at the gall of each county sponsor, and the parents for subjecting their lovely daughters to the "Fairness-of-the-Fair" deal.

The contest lists a set of rules, but, according to who runs what contest depends on who and how the judges are selected. I attend most of the area contests. I am speaking of "Miss Poway", "Miss Lemon Grove" and "Miss Serra Mesa".

I feel so sorry for the girl next door type. She doesn't stand a chance of winning because of the hard-core "title-grabber".

All in all it's disgusting! I feel so sorry for the majority of the girls. By the time the winners were announced

Humane Charity

Dear Editor,
Time has historically dictated change in social proprieties and customs. Even death has not escaped change attending social attitudes.

Until recent years flowers have been considered the acceptable manner in which to show regret in the passing of a friend or a loved one. Now, more and more bereaved families are suggesting a monetary memorial contribution to a favored charity.

Many national charities receive into the millions of dollars which has become an important source of income to continue the work of the charity.

The same applies even to such a small organization as the San Diego County Humane Society. Memorial contributions have become an important tool in aiding helpless animals, and we think a more substantial and lasting memorial.

Each memorial contribution received at the Humane Society is acknowledged the day of acknowledgement sent to the family. No mimeograph or form letters are used. Amounts of contributions are not specified.

Local Libraries Provide Something for Everybody

With the arrival of summer and the end of the school year, parents will probably be hearing the age-old teen complaints about nothing to do and nowhere to go.

The answer lies surprisingly close to home. It's at the local library, which is a far cry from the stereo-type library of a few years ago.

In fact, the library has something for everybody, whether it's rock and roll music, works of art, reading material, films, demonstrations, displays, or just information.

Even the librarians are different. They play pop music over the library sound system, wear mini-skirts and pant-suits, smile a lot, and are eager to help find the information a library user might need, whether it's specifications for tuning up a 1948 Chevrolet, the mating habits of the South American freshwater characid, or just where to find that certain book or record.

For children, the library offers magic shows, puppet shows, arts and crafts, music listening, show and tell, puzzles, and reading clubs, as well as films on a regular basis.

Some of the interesting events for children coming up in the next few weeks at the Lemon Grove Library include a clown, Lisa Lollipop, who will hand out lollipops and teach the children to twist balloons into animal shapes. That program will be offered Saturday at 11 a.m.

Another children's program will be June 27, when Jocelyn Evernham will tell two children's stories in the unique form of shadow plays at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Evernham cuts out characters from paper and cardboard and projects their shadows on a screen while telling the stories.

Teens and young adults might be interested two programs to be presented later in July. Robert Brosch will give an ice carving demonstration July 14 at 11 a.m., carving figures from blocks of ice.

The second program, a lecture and demonstration on snakes, will be presented by Dr. Richard Mellien, of Grossmont College. He'll talk about several varieties of snakes July 19 to 2 p.m. and will show some of the common snakes of the area, including the California King snake.

Another children's program, a puppet show by Bea Higgins, is scheduled July 25 at 2 p.m.

In addition to single-day programs, regular activities will be held at the Lemon Grove Library, as well as the Casa de Oro and Spring Valley Libraries.

Wednesday mornings at Spring Valley, arts and crafts are scheduled, while Tuesdays and Thursdays are reserved for "show and tell" and "treasure hunts" at the Casa de Oro Library.

A special summer children's program is also planned at all three local libraries. Under the program, a youngster can earn points for attending any of the films, puppet shows or other programs, or for reading a book, working a maze, solving a puzzle, or giving a friend a tour of the library.

If the youngster earns twelve points during the summer, he will receive a certificate bearing his name, and will be invited to attend a demonstration by John Quirk, of the Heartland YMCA.

Programs offered at the Spring Valley Library include a puppet show August 16, and films scheduled for Thursdays. Films include "Bear Country", "Red Balloon", "Curious George", and "Roses Walk".

Casa de Oro Library programs include a film July 11 "White Mane", the story of a boy and his horse, a program July 25 by underwater photographer Chuck Allen on deep set diving, a puppet show August 8, and folk singers Anne Marie Stolz and Paul Winter, August 22.

Summer programs are geared primarily toward youngsters, while programs during most of the rest of the year are devoted to young adults and the "older generation". Programs in the past have included lectures on such topics as astrology, witchcraft, and hypnotism.

FOR THE YOUNGSTER — Chuck Martinez, a local magician, is called upon annually to provide a popular magic show for youngsters at the Spring Valley Library. Other children's programs slated for this summer include films, puppet shows, puzzles, arts and crafts, "show and tell", and, of course, reading books. For details on any library programs contact Eleanor Covey at 463-5982.

High School Personnel Post Goes to Ms. Hill

Ms. Barbara Hill, a Thousand Oaks school executive has been named by the Grossmont Union High School District to replace Dr. George Benson as staffing of the soon-to-be-completed Valhalla High school gets under way.

Dr. Benson will become the principal of Valhalla August 1. His replacement, as assistant superintendent for personnel is Ms. Barbara Hill, 43, who leaves her job as director of certificated personnel for the Valley Oaks District of Thousand Oaks to come to Grossmont.

Valhalla is scheduled to open in September.

Westlands Bank Opens Monday; Well Known Title Man is Head

Westlands Bank, after several months of preparation, opens Monday.

An existing structure at 445 W. Ash st., San Diego, was completely remodeled to provide 10,500 square feet of serviceable area. The plans were designed to maintain the appearance of earlier days, but it will offer efficiency of the 70's according to J. J. Thompson, a well-known title insurance executive as bank director.

Particular attention has been given to convenience features that will accommodate patrons in expedience of transactions, comfort and security. The Contemporary Spanish theme has been retained throughout. Tile Mansard roof, heavy textured swirl exterior and battered wall effect suggest stability as well as serenity typical of Early California.

An imposing chandelier dominates the main section of the

as a teacher and five years in administration personnel. She holds life diplomas in both elementary and secondary education, credentials in elementary and secondary school administration, and a certificate in specialist teacher in reading.

Dr. Benson was appointed principal of Valhalla in the spring of 1969 and served as head of the school's planning team. In 1972 he was asked to fill in as personnel director when the post became vacant due to the illness of Dr. Hazel Bole.

Valhalla is scheduled to open in September.

CAST — Among the players in the Lemon Grove Junior High production of "The Wizard of Oz" were Mike Tomaselli as the tin woodsman, Cliff Halverson as the scarecrow, Becky Sodeberg as Dorothy, and James Chevalier as the cowardly lion. Fannie Coleman, a new teacher at the school, borrowed the costumes from Grossmont College, but the students handled the rest of the production, including sets, direction, scheduling, and rehearsing.

'Lenny' May Be Controversial —But The Performance—'Superb'

By Max Goodwin

About the only non-controversial part of Off Broadway's latest production "Lenny" is its advance billing. It warns that the production is "controversial"—and it is!

But how else could the story of Lenny Bruce and his philosophy be honestly told? Bruce was a super-acidulous Mort Sahl who believed that society viewed the scene in terms of sex, four letter words, immorality, and fear. So did Bruce but to him nothing was immoral and he was not afraid. He just saw people and events from his philosophical level—a level that was not that of moralists. He reported society's frailties, paradoxes and hypocrisy through a veil of four-letter words—and drugs—and he felt no revulsion in relating his views. Some called him a comedian. Some called him a genius. Some called him sick and dirty. And he died from an overdose of narcotics.

To such matters does Sandy Baron and his competent cast address themselves in "Off Broadway" "Lenny". Baron is superb. He would be superb in any place, but in "Lenny" he brought feeling and understanding that makes contro-versal scenes and language a necessary part of his role—if you are to absorb the essence of "Lenny."

Baron, as Lenny, worked like a dervish, switching from scene to scene with hardly a break in his discourses. So emotionally involved does one get with "Lenny" that a limpness comes at show's end. And there is a sympathy that continues long after the show ends—until memory reminds that Lenny Bruce didn't deserve all the sympathy that Baron is able to create.

The show is well staged. The scenery and props are unusual for a stage the size of Off Broadway. But the greatest aid to Baron in portraying his complex role is that given by veteran actor William Zuckert. He was a steady influence on a play which sort of dissolves from one scene to another. Maybe death would not have come so early to Lenny if he had a Zuckert...but that's guesswork.

There are fifteen listed in the cast, many of them performing in more than one role, and there is the Doug Nye trio which supplied an unusual musical background for the play.

Baron's portrayal of Lenny is one of the most absorbing ever offered at Off Broadway. While the play does present complete nudity, obscene and vulgar language—with actions to match in some cases this

Junior High Completes One of Busiest Years

Graduating students at Lemon Grove Junior High have plenty of things to look back upon, as this week marks the end of one of the busiest years ever at the local school.

No sooner did school get underway last September than the first extra-curricular activities began, starting with a fashion show staged by Sears. Included were fashions for young men as well as those for the girls.

The entire student body took part in a Veteran's Day assembly later, and over 300 youngsters enjoyed a trip to Disneyland in November. December marked the school's annual Christmas Band and Orchestra Concert. Also, during the vacation period, members of the school choir visited local rest homes, where they sang seasonal tunes.

Assemblies after the holidays included one in which Chuck Hyles lectured on the rights and responsibilities of teenagers, as well as one which featured two foreign exchange students.

The foreign students gave the local youngsters an insight into the differences between countries.

Other featured assemblies included a drill team demonstration by the Mount Miguel ROTC, and a hypnotism demonstration. The school's Great Books Club also provided a program for the PTA.

Musical entertainment was provided by the Helix High School choir, band, bagpipe band, and sword dancers.

Assemblies for black and Chicano awareness were provided by campus clubs, with club members explaining ethnic background and displaying costumes of Africa and Mexico.

Later in the year, top students were taken on a field trip to Camp Pendleton, where they toured the facilities and learned about military customs.

Other activities included a play staged by the performing arts students, "The Wizard of Oz" (Continued on Page 8)

BLACK AWARENESS — Lemon Grove Junior High's Black Awareness assembly was one of many activities of the past year. In photo, members of the black awareness group on campus show costumes of the Baiki style common in Africa. Coordinating the assembly were Gwen Harris and Rosemary Pashow.

O'Halloran Loses State Crown At Coliseum In Split Decision

By Max Goodwin

It was a great night for San Diego fight fans. All but one. That one was Jack O'Halloran, who gave up his State heavyweight boxing crown to a comparative newcomer to the art of boxing — Howard "K.O." Smith.

Smith took the crown on a split decision in 12 rounds Friday night at the newly refurbished Coliseum before a near-capacity crowd of 3,200 fight fans which included a section of O'Halloran supporters from Bully's West — a bistro frequented by the big one.

Smith, 6-2½, a superbly conditioned, 201 pound heavyweight, gave up almost four inches in height and 46 pounds to win the championship but he suffered a split right eye in the process. His record is now 14-1 of which 10 were knockouts.

O'Halloran, 6-6, down to a trim 247 for his Friday fight, never got his fight going. The few solid blows he landed were not followed up, a habit he has shown in all of his fights here.

"I didn't think he could move very well," Smith said afterwards. "My plan was to beat him in 12 (rounds). My manager said we'd give him (O'Halloran) a return match. I'll knock him out next time."

O'Halloran claimed he beat Smith all the way. "The judges must have been watching a different fight," he told reporters. "I don't know what I have to do to win a fight in my own home town. I guess I have to knock every guy out here to win." Boston, Philadelphia, and Miami have been listed as "home" for O'Halloran so far.

In all, it was a nifty card put together by Mickey Davies in his initial presentation as a San Diego fight entrepreneur Davies, a former Angelino, has enjoyed a good reputation throughout fightdom as a fighter, announcer, manager and promoter. He was about 100 fans short of filling the Coliseum to capacity and the lines at his refreshment stand were so deep that many missed some of the early action while waiting to get a beer.

And there was plenty of action early. L.A. lightweight Armando Cordova KO'd Cabrera of San Ysidro in 2:07 of the first round.

In an eight round lightweight bout, Julio Lopez of San Diego won a decision over Tony Bellard of El Cajon. The fight was so furious that fans stood up most of the time and littered the ring with money when the fight was over. Following the main go, Jeff Lucas of San Diego decided Frankie Davila of Los Angeles in a welterweight fray.

FIFTH PLACE—Roland Reed, 40, co-owner of Honda of Lemon Grove, managed to nail fifth place in last week's Baja 500 Off-Road race, considered by many to be the most brutal event on the off-road circuit. Reed, who has prepared bikes for the race for many years, entered it for the first time this year, along with Bill Silverthorn, service manager of the local business and last year's winner of the event. Silverthorn, riding a 250 cc Honda, as did Reed, finished third despite some recurring electrical problems. Reed lost two of his bike's three headlamps when the bike went over a 40-foot cliff, finishing the last 200 miles with only one light.

Ned's Grabs Top Spot In Pony Loop

Ned's Outboard relied on nightcap. Greg Salva tossed a excellent pitching and good no-hitter for the winners in hitting to sweep a pair of the second game.

In the only other game of the week, Lido's whipped the Green Hornets in an exciting affair to move from a tie for third place into sole possession of first place in the Sky-Grove Pony League.

Ned's, beginning the week a game and a half out of first place, locked horns with Lido's in a twinbill, featuring the league's two top pitchers in the first game. Earl Ritchey put his 0.00 earned run average on tie line for Ned's, while John Young, with a 0.26 ERA and 127 strikeouts, handled the mound chores for Lido's.

The ensuing pitcher's battle resulted in a scoreless game for four innings, until Ritchey aided his own cause with a home run in the top of the fifth. Ritchey continued fine pitching and ended up with a 2-0 victory and a two-hitter.

In the second game, Ned's relied on solid hitting for a 5-2 victory, which included a home run by Kip Hayes.

The Green Hornets, atop the standings last week, split a pair with the Lions before dropping a close one to Ned's, dropping into second place.

The Lions picked up a victory in the opener as John Barrows twirled a no-hitter, 2-0. The nightcap went to the Hornets, 2-1.

Against Ned's, the Hornets came into the game a half game ahead of the pack, but came out the loser, 4-3, dropping them a half game back of Ned's in second place.

Murphy's and A-Rooter split a pair of 2-1 games. Murphy scored the winning run in the bottom of the seventh in the opener, as did A-Rooter in the

Hitt Claims Cajon Main Event Victory

Jim Hitt, of Lemon Grove, started fourth in the main event, took the lead on the eighth lap, and went all the way to win the 30-lap feature Saturday night at Cajon Speedway, setting a super stock record of 9:29.39.

Pat McIntyre, of Spring Valley, got caught in a five-car collision on the seventh lap and was unable to get back into the thick of things. Also in the mishap was George Behlman, of Lemon Grove.

A look at the point standings shows McIntyre in second place, 105 points ahead of third place Hitt. Both drivers are expected to battle it out again Saturday, with qualifying at 6:30 p.m. and racing action at 8 p.m.

Lemon Grove Ballplayer Signed By KC Royals

Lemon Grove resident Bob Kellison was expected to sign a contract with the Kansas City Royals Baseball Club this week after meeting with club representatives over the weekend. Kellison, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kellison, of 3004 Kennerly dr., Lemon Grove, was selected by the Royals in the sixth round of the free agent draft last week.

The heavy-hitting Kellison, a San Diego State and Helix High graduate, has a baseball career that goes back to Little League, but he nearly gave up the national pastime in favor of a basketball career after high school.

He has been an exceptional player since his sophomore year at Helix, when he broke into the varsity team as the youngest player, made the starting lineup and hit .280.

As a junior, he wielded a hot bat with a .325 average, but was also doing so well with the school basketball team that he switched to basketball as his main sport during his senior year.

That season, he hit only .270, but earned a basketball scholarship to the University of California at San Diego.

Budget problems at UCSD resulted in the cancellation of his scholarship, so he transferred to San Diego State and took up baseball again.

In his sophomore year at State, despite being somewhat rusty, he hit a solid .293, second on the team, and gave up basketball altogether.

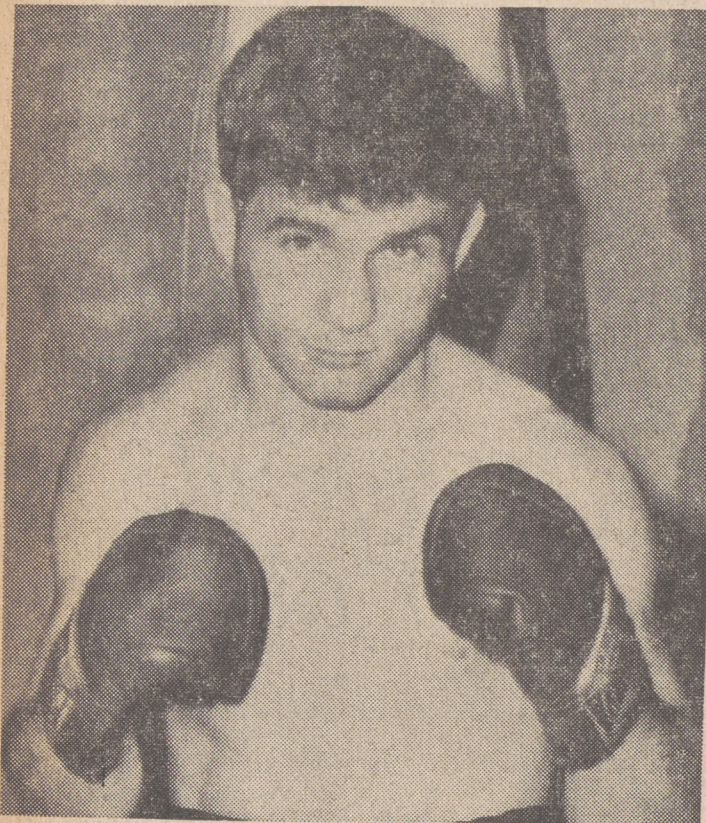

Another setback during his junior year occurred when he was injured, but he still managed to hit a whopping .341 to lead the team, and hit a team high of 12 doubles.

He put it all together last year as a senior with a .359 average, while leading the Aztecs with nine home runs, five triples, 36 runs batted in, and 96 total bases. He was second on the team with 10 doubles.

His development of power was largely the result of playing in the College All-Star League in South Dakota, where he hit .285 with four homers and 25 runs batted in. His senior year resulted in his being named to the All-PCAA team, and he is now a candidate for All-American honors.

His 3.4 grade point average also helped in getting him named to the All-American Academic Team, an honor for top scholar-athletes.

He is a good fastball and curveball hitter, but confesses to being somewhat of a bad ball hitter, in the style of Yogi Berra, the one-time great catcher with the New York Ynkers and most recently manager of the New York Mets.

TOPS CARD—Featherweight Art Hafey, who made his local debut on the recent Ken Norton-Muhammad Ali card, will be featured on the June 22 schedule at the San Diego Coliseum in a ten round bout. The scrappy Hafey sports a 25-1 record with 15 KO's. Also on the card is middleweight David Love. The fights will get underway at 8 p.m.

Hafey, Love Form Double Main Event

Featherweight Art Hafey and middleweight David Love, two promising prospects of San Diego, will be heading up the June 22 fight card at the San Diego Coliseum in a pair of ten-round events.

Hafey will take on Ricardo Garcia of Mexico in one of the twin features while Love goes against Marco Gerardo who fights out of the Flaherty Rodriguez stable in Dulzura. Formerly from Nova Scotia, Hafey moved to San Diego six months ago, and is trained by former Canadian light heavyweight champion Burke Emery. Only 21 years old, Hafey is on his way up in the feather division and April 19 scored a big win by stopping the number eight world bantamweight, Famoso Gomez of Mexico, in the sixth round at the Forum in Los Angeles.

Hafey made his local debut on the Muhammad Ali-Ken Norton card at the Arena March 31 and knocked out Valente Vera of Tijuana in the fourth round. He followed with a one punch kayo of Jose Valdez of Mexico in the fifth round a few weeks later in Los Angeles.

Currently, the small but powerful Hafey sports a ring at 8 p.m. New number at the mark of 25-1 which includes 15 knockouts.

Garcia is a veteran who has been in against the best. Last year he went 10 rounds against world-rated Bert Nabalan before being stopped and then won a decision over tough Tony Jumao in Chicago. Love is pitched tough against the rangy and talented Gerardo. Voted Ring's prospect for the month of April, Love is 17-3 as a pro and proving to be a popular addition to the San Diego fight scene.

Gerardo is 24-6 with 15 knockouts. For the past two years he has fought almost entirely in Las Vegas and Stateline, Nevada, in main events for promoter Bill Miller and has proven popular for his ability and aggressive style.

Love and Gerardo are both rangy middleweights. Love is the classic style boxer, while Gerardo is a free-swinging, boxer-puncher.

Promoter Mickey Davies announced that 2000 general admission tickets will be sold at half-price ($1.50) for the June 22 double main event. Ring-side will be $7.50 and reserved $6 for the fight set to open Coliseum is 232-8362.

Jackson Supply In Sole Possession of First Place

After seven weeks of action, the Spring Valley Little League has a sole leader this week after Jackson Supply, tied last week with Berg Electric and Moose Lodge, swept a pair of games from Kiwanis, while Berg and Moose split a pair of games.

Moose took over the league lead briefly Wednesday with a 1-0 victory over Berg, putting Moose a half game ahead of Jackson and a full game ahead of Berg. The winning run was scored in the seventh inning when Kelly Solomon scored on John Valluzzi's sacrifice fly.

On Thursday, Jackson moved into a two-way tie with Moose by whipping Kiwanis, 8-2 on James Dennis' grand slam homer.

Jackson took over sole possession of the lead, by half a game, when Berg Electric trumped Moose Lodge, 4-3 Saturday. In that game, Berg scored early and held a 4-0 lead, but Moose rallied for three runs in the fifth and threatened again in the sixth before the game ended.

Jackson moved out to a full-game lead minutes later by edging Kiwanis, 9-8, in a come-from behind affair.

Kiwanis led, 5-0, then a home run by John Fox made it 8-0. Jackson came up with five runs in the bottom of the fifth, then tied it up in the bottom of the sixth before Mike Vitale singled home Joe Cecil with the winning run.

In other major division games, Letter Carriers extended One Hour Martinizing's losing streak with 10-5 and 3-2 victories. Richard Sing hit a sole homer for the losers in the first game.

In the only other games, Luigi's and Dial Finance split a pair of 5-4 decisions, with Luigi's winning the first and leading 4-0 in the second before collapsing in the late innings.

In the intermediate league, Quickway Construction and Heath's Texaco tied for the early second-half season lead, each team winning two games. Quickway trumped Mission Bay Concrete, 11-10 and 18-9, while Heath's whipped Alesi Plumbing, 19-2 and 19-7.

In the minor league, Stroh's Lomita Bowl beat Worthy Plumbing twice while Bosters knocked off Polar Frozen Foods twice to throw the race into a four-way tie. Sharing 8-5 records are Worthy Plumbing, Polar Frozen, Maple Cottage, and Stroh's.

In the rookie league, DeVore Painting won two games, 15-5 over SV Shopping Center, and 7-6 over Jackson Supply, to take over the league lead.

BIKE LICENSES — Bike Licensing started this week at the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Fire Stations, in a program involving the fire departments, and Sheriff's Department, and the Highway Patrol. The program is a voluntary one designed to reduce bicycle theft. In photo, Captain Dale Chamberlain, of the Lemon Grove Fire Station, takes information before issuing a sticker for a local bike.

L.G. Lions Club Plans Pre-Installation Party

The Lemon Grove Lions club pre-installation party is scheduled for Saturday at Carlton Oaks Country club, retiring president Jim Dorman said this week.

While the actual installation ceremony will take place the following Thursday at a regular membership meeting, many festivities will be part of the Saturday night affair.

Attendance awards, and for things less serious will be handed out. Les Cleer, who will be officially installed the following week, will introduce his corps of officers and his board.

Cocktail hour is at 7; dinner at 8, Dorman said.

Bike Thefts Seen Stemmed In New License Program

A voluntary bicycle licensing program got under way in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley this week, due mostly to the effort of California Highway Patrol Officer William Pasley, who is in charge of the East County Accident Reduction Team (ART).

The ART team has been concerned with bicycle safety since being assigned here late last year. Part of the program included "citing" traffic-errant riders. The "law-breakers" attend a bicycle court in El Cajon over which a teen-age judge presides. Guilty cyclists are sentenced to attend a bike safety school at Mt. Miguel High school.

Having brought the bicycle accident rate under better control, Pasley concerned ART with bicycle theft. He got approval from local fire chiefs, obtained the necessary index cards, application blanks and license stickers and distributed them to three fire stations in Spring Valley and the only one in Lemon Grove.

Youngsters may now register their bikes at any of the four fire stations daily 8 a.m.-8 p.m. A fireman will attach the license number firmly to the vehicle.

The registration number is placed on file with the Sheriff's office as well as with the Fire Department. That means that a Lemon Grove bike recovered in Vista, for example, can be quickly traced to its owner.

Capt. Dale Chamberlain is registration program. Fire in charge of the Lemon Grove man 1st Class Jim Crane runs the Spring Valley program. Youngsters must supply the drivers license number of a parent and other family information, and pay 50 cents. Any funds over the actual cost will be put in a local youth fund, fire chiefs said.

Pasley said the licensing program was started in Lakeside and has proven successful. He said that many bikes will be recovered by owners because of positive identity. He said the bike loss rate should decrease as a result of the licensing program.

Pianist Liberace's first name is Wladziu Valentino, but he seldom uses it, preferring to be known as "Lee".

and of Oz". Students provided their own sets, directed, produced and rehearsed the production before staging it before a student assembly and for the PTA.

Rounding out the year's highlights were the May Old Time Days Parade and a school-wide talent show.

For the annual OTD Parade, students constructed the "Poluzzi II", a wood frame and cardboard car in which several students rode during the parade.

The wood framing was completed under the direction of Pete Pedersen, with the cardboard body constructed by the students of Relene Keller. The bottom of the float, named for principal Louis Poluzzi, was covered with chicken wire and crepe paper.
